NEW BANK BUILDING---James B. Wiesler, vice-president and head of Bank of America's San Jose-Salinas Valley regional administration, points out the new home of the bank's Hamilton Plaza branch in Campbell. It will be a free-standing building at the northwest corner of Bascom and Campbell avenues in "The Prune Yard" specialty center. Kevin M. Salmon, leasing director of "The Prune Yard" and "The Towers", is on the left and Oscar Sorenson, manager of the Hamilton Ave. branch, is on the right.

Beautification group hands out 6500 litter bags

The anti-litter campaign is swinging into full force under the direction of the Campbell Citizens for Beautification, with a total of 6,500 litter bags now being distributed by civic groups and Campbell businesses.

Requests have been received for 25,000 and will be filled if the bags are available. The attractive plastic bags are designed to fit on auto dashboards and remind motorists to dispose of litter in the bag, rather than on the streets.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of the beautification committee, pointed out that litter not only costs money to clean up, with the state spending $50 million a year on clean-up alone, but it is also harmful to fish and plant life. Fishing and hunting grounds are having to be closed, as many found out this

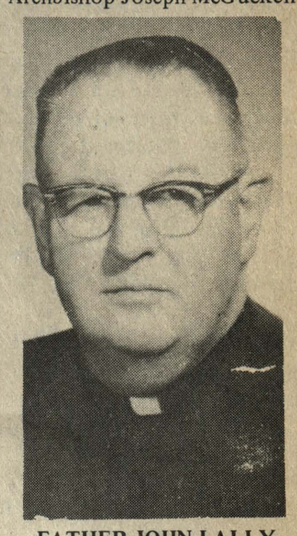
Goes to San Mateo

Father John Lally leaves St. Lucy's

The Rev. John M. Lally, pastor of St. Lucy's Catholic Church in Campbell for almost 10 years, has been appointed pastor of St. Bartholomew's, located at 300 Alameda de las Pulgas in San Mateo.

The Rev. Leonard Bose, formerly pastor of St. Athanasius in Mountain View, is the new pastor of St. Lucy's.

The appointments were made by Archbishop Joseph McGucken, of San Francisco, and were effective on Wednesday of this week with the official installation scheduled for next Sunday.



FATHER JOHN LALLY --leaves Campbell

Father Lally succeeds the Rev. Bernard Burke, who is retiring because of ill health.

Father Lally, a native of San Francisco, who studied for the priesthood at St. Patrick's Seminary in Menlo Park, came to St. Lucy's on Feb. 2, 1960 after serving seven years as archdiocesan director of layman and laywoman's retreats in Menlo Park.

He succeeded the late Father Denis Kennelly, who was the first pastor after St. Lucy's became a full-fledged parish in 1947. On April 7, 1963, Father Lally was honored by the parish on his silver jubilee as a priest.

Father Bose will be only the third pastor the parish has had in its 22 years of existence. From 1914 to 1947 St. Lucy's was a mission served by St. Martin's of San Jose.

St. Lucy's has had a phenomenal growth in the two decades it has been a parish. Originally located in a small building on W. Rincon, a new church was constructed in 1958 on Winchester. Then 10 years later, in 1968, despite splitting of the parish three times during these years, the present church building of twice the size, was built.

The former church building has been converted into a parish hall and named Kennelly Hall after the parish's first pastor.

St. Lucy's at the present time is forming a Parish Council with the objective of involving the parishioners in the planning and administrating of parish affairs.

After months of preliminary planning, the Parish Council was officially launched two weeks ago at a parish dinner held at the county fairgrounds. Approximately 1200 of the 2400 member parish attended the dinner.

Teams are now in the process of contacting every member of the parish to explain the objectives of the new Parish Council.

Bank to locate in "Prune Yard"

Bank of America announced this week that it will relocate its Hamilton Ave. branch in the fast-developing "Prune Yard" center at the northwest corner of Bascom and Campbell avenues.

The branch will be located in a free-standing building in the center which is dominated by "The Towers", the 18-story office building that is fast-nearing completion.

Nearing completion also in the center is the 22,000 square foot theater building that will house three motion picture outlets.

Kevin Salmon, leasing director for "The Prune Yard" and "The Towers", a joint development of Fred Sahadi and Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., said this week also that construction is to start immediately on an additional 70,000 square-foot structure adjacent to the theaters.

In making the announcement about the new BofA building, Oscar Sorenson, manager of the present Hamilton branch, said that the lease has been signed with the developer and current plans call for the building to be constructed by next spring.

"We think our new home will be a striking addition to the community," Sorenson said. "Its architectural design will be heavy and ornate Spanish, utilizing old timbers, adobe brick and ceramic tile roof material, reminiscent of early California in keeping with the rest of the specialty shopping center."

In all, the bank has leased about 48,000 square feet of ground area. The building will include a 7,500 square-foot main floor, a mezzanine and space to the rear of the building for future expansion.

The Hamilton Ave. branch of the Bank of America was established in 1959.

According to Salmon, construction of both "The Towers" and the theaters is on schedule. He said it is anticipated that the theaters will be open by the middle of next month and it is hoped that "The Towers" will be ready for occupancy by the middle of January.

Salmon added that about 60% of the space in "The Towers" has already been committed.

He added also that one of the prime leases for the major portion of the center that will adjoin the theater building has been signed with a large fabric concern.

The center is being constructed on a three-phase basis, Salmon pointed out. Actually the theater and the adjoining buildings are part of the first phase and the free-standing bank building will be the second.

The final phase will fill out the northeast corner of the project along Bascom.

City Council to name youth 'advisors' Monday

Campbell's first Youth Advisory Commission is scheduled to come into existence next Monday night, Nov. 24, at the City Council meeting.

A "selection committee," composed of Councilman Ralph Doetsch, Russell Hammer of 1227 S. Clover Ave. and Karen Crawford of 1605 Sheffield, both Del Mar High students, are expected to submit the recommendation for members to the nine-member advisory body which has been officially established by Council resolution.

On Tuesday of this week, the committee interviewed applicants who had filed for the new commission.

Members of the Commission must not have yet reached their 21st birthday and must be residents of the City of Campbell.

The Youth Advisory Commission was recommended at the third annual Congress for Community Progress.

According to the resolution, the commissioners are to act in an advisory capacity to the City Council on all matters pertaining to youth-related programs.

Those applying for the Youth Advisory Commission included William A. Graham, 46 N. Second St.; Walter Hitch, 1155 Paula Dr.; Terry Bullian, 64 Llewellyn Ave.; Bob Hambelton, 787 Century Dr.; Bill McCall, 299 Carlyn; all from Campbell High.

Mike Clarke, 99 N. Llewellyn; University of Santa Clara.

Robert Piper, Jr., 1849 Pollard Rd.; Westmont High.

Julie Parker, 20 Midway; Mary Ann Chalmers, 1239 Shady Dell; Carol Crawford, 1605 Sheffield; Ron Brooks, 1101 Monica Lane; from Del Mar High.

Robert Clarke, 99 N. Llewellyn; Bellarmine.

Before the City Council next Monday night also will be an appeal from a Planning Commission ruling by Anthony C. Morici, developer of the former Gomes Ranch between Latimer and Hamilton.

The developers are requesting modification to the use permit that was granted them for the service station which is part of the commercial center portion of the development that also includes a 780-unit apartment complex.

The Planning Commission specified that the service station should be of "reverse planning" and that no building permit should be issued for it until 50 per cent of the construction of the center was under way.

For the first time, as far as city hall observers can recall, the City Council on Monday night is also scheduled to act on a request for a license for a pawnbroker-jewelry store that is planned for the Campbell Shopping Center at Winchester and Latimer. The application has been filed by Douglas Kassler.

The Council is also expected to refer to the city's insurance carrier a claim submitted by Frank R. Barbaccia, Jr., who alleges he was injured in the county library in Campbell when a chair was pulled from under him. The complaint charges negligence.

Planners defer zone change on Campbell Avenue

Action on the request submitted by Lowell Grattan for a zone change for properties at 540 and 600 W. Campbell Ave. at San Tomas Expressway was deferred until the next meeting, Dec. 1, by the Planning Commission Monday night.

The deferment was suggested to allow the commissioners to study the access problems to the properties.

But before the matter was continued, the Planning Commission, by a 4-2 vote, rejected a motion by Frank Klein that would have changed the zone from R-1 (single family) to R-2-S (low density apartments). Norm Paul voted with Klein. Voting against that zoning were Merrill Grim, Thayer Lyons, Jack Healey and Dale Scott.

Grattan had requested commercial zoning for the area specifying that the properties were "ideally suited for commercial development serving the motoring public".

In the recently amended specific area plan approved by both the Planning Commission and City Council, the parcels in question had been

OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

OVER THE YEARS YOUR editor has attempted to keep his perspective (and yours) as far as the city councilmen of this city were concerned.

And it hasn't been easy.

We readily admit that.

Every two years there is a city council election.

One time three positions are open and then two years later two other spots are up for grabs.

In April, 1970, for example, two city councilmen will be named.

Terms of the current mayor, Homer Hyde, and a former mayor, Ralph Doetsch, are expiring.

It is our candid opinion, publicly expressed, if you will, that the City of Campbell is fortunate in having two men of the caliber of Homer and Ralph serving on the City Council.

And, if you want us to, we can prove that by chapter and verse.

THAT DOES NOT MEAN that we agree with those two guys constantly as to their concepts and philosophies with relation to how the city should be run.

Wouldn't that be silly?

In the first place, you would find that over the years on the council Ralph and Homer have been on opposite sides of some issues.

And that's the way it should be.

Regardless of how we feel on any particular issue, we maintain that Homer Hyde and Ralph Doetsch have fulfilled the requirements of dedicated and responsible leadership.

They have proved themselves by their records of service to the community.

So, make no mistake about it, in our opinion, if those two guys want to serve their city again, the city will be the gainer.

Ralph Doetsch is willing to serve again.

You may recall that Ralph made history when he was elected in 1962. He was elected for the first time as a write-in candidate; something that hadn't been done before.. or since, for that matter.

And DOETSCH is not an easy name to spell out.

Ralph has proved his worth and, if he is willing to run again, we will be pleased to be in his corner.

But Homer apparently feels that due to circumstances he cannot devote the time he feels necessary to being a good councilman. So he is not going to run.

He has made up his mind not to seek reelection.

DON'T GET US WRONG... As it has been said time and again, no one is indispensable.

But we maintain that Homer Hyde has proved his worth to our city and it would be to this community's advantage to have Homer on the City Council for the next four years.

But we respect him more than ever because he feels that he will not be able to give the time as a councilman during the next four years to his native city that he thinks it deserves.

You see Homer doesn't know how to do anything halfway.

That's his "hangup".

And you know, kids, that's one "hangup" we can stand a lot of... (That may be poor grammar but that's how it is.)

-0-

SO--IF HOMER ISN'T GOing to run, who will?

That's like saying how long is a piece of string.

Not quite, really. We have a lot going for us.

During the past few years as Campbell has begun to assert itself as an entity, and as a commUNITY, with the emphasis on the UNITY, many

Editorial

What is a bond issue?

During the recent Student Government Day when students from five of the area high schools "took over" the city hall, impartial observers were loud in their praise of the youngsters who assumed the roles of city officials for the day.

The students were commended for their civic interest and their enthusiastic participation in the program.

Observers of the youngsters in action were impressed by the poise shown by the students and their articulate expression of the problems and objectives of local government as they saw it.

True, some of the objectives may have been a trifle too idealistic in scope which, of course, can be attributed to youthful enthusiasm that has not yet been sullied by practicalities.

Anyway we were impressed by the youngsters and we are convinced that the annual Student Government Day renders a valuable service to the community and the kids themselves.

It exposes the students to the problems of a city administration that they probably could not get in any other way.

We admit that just one day of exposure will not solve all the ills that have been emphasized by the so-called "generation gap". But it does bring the kids a little more into focus.

Anyway we were pleased by the reaction of the students and how they expressed themselves about the problems that exist in this community.

After hearing the local youngsters express themselves at their "city council meeting", we were surprised to learn that the Campbell students were exceptions to the rule.

It seems that, in many instances, the younger generation has no knowledge of the "facts of life" as they pertain to local government.

One of our contemporaries in the field of local journalism (Los Gatos Times-Observer) recently republished an editorial that appeared originally in the Pleasanton Times.

We think that the editorial presents a viewpoint that is almost unbelievable.

For that reason we are reprinting it in full:

"WHAT IS A BOND ISSUE?"

"We have in hand a special missive from the California Teachers Association advising us taxpaying-parents of the 'downward trend' in voter acceptance of school tax and bond proposals throughout this state. That is disturbing, but hardly news. What would have been more helpful is a report on what the educational community is doing to bring tax-consuming schools and tax-supporting knowledge into some kind of better rapport.

"The other day we were approached by a fresh-out-of-college employee who had to ask, 'Just what do they mean by a bond issue?'

"The question so shook us that we have since put it to several local high schools, with no results whatsoever.

"It raises the fascinating, if horrendous, picture of young people going through 17 years of formal education, courtesy of a system they do not understand, let alone appreciate.

"If our public school program has any value whatsoever, then it must be that our young people learn to live first with themselves, with each other, and within the community which feeds and teaches them during most of their learning years.

"When they are privileged to live in such a place as this--exposed to a wonderfully exciting and changing scene... it seems tragic that a youngster could go through it all without ever really understanding what it was all about.

"After California Teachers Association meets that challenge, perhaps they will also have the answer to 'Why there is a growing tendency away from voter support for school tax measures'."

....Pleasanton Times....

We quoted that editorial to prove a point.

We did not make a survey of the 15 youngsters who we involved in the recent "Student Government Day". Yet we are convinced that those high school students were well aware that the wherewithal to pay the freight to achieve the objectives they desire has to come from the taxpayers themselves.

In other words, nothing in this life comes free.

Somebody has to pay for it.

A bond issue simply spreads out the payment schedule over future years.

Perhaps the youngsters who "took over" the city on "Student Government Day" were not completely clear as to what "machinery" was necessary to get the needed financing to achieve the goals they desire.

But we venture to assert that they, at least, knew what was meant by a "bond issue".

MORE ABOUT

individuals have proved by their deeds that they believe in their town...and are willing to work for its betterment.

In our opinion, there can be no better test for community dedication and "responsible leadership" than trial by fire.

Even the most cynical-minded individual must admit that the citizens' efforts in the last two civic bond campaigns proved that there were many at the "grass roots" level who believed in their community and were willing to work for it.

But what is even more important, in our opinion, is that after the bond issues were passed, these same "grass roots" people have kept up their interest in the city.

So what we are saying in this long-winded way is that, as much as we would like to see Homer Hyde continue to serve his community as a councilman, in the last few years responsible leadership has been evident on many fronts.

And we think this community is indeed fortunate in that respect.

SO--MAYBE YOU WANT names?

Take, for example, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Watson (Jeanette and Court).

Shucks, there are two openings on the City Council.

Jeanette and Court have proved themselves by their records for community service. They could even run as a team.

Hey, just how many families in town have two "possibles" in the same household.

Or take Don Hebard or Norm Paul or Dale Scott or Frank Kukuk?

They all broke their backs on community projects.

Or how about this guy Bill Podgorsek.

Provided you can learn to pronounce and spell his name.

We doubt very much that anyone has ever worked harder for his community than Bill "Pod".

His sincerity and his belief in his community has rubbed off on an awful lot of people.

We think that Bill Podgorsek would make a heck of a good councilman.

That can also be said, of course, about many others who have worked so hard in "operation bootstrap".

Frankly we think this community is just plain downright lucky in having so many "potentials".

What do you think?

SOME OF YOU MAY RE-call that in a recent column we kidded Wells Fargo in town for having so many females around.

We recalled that "some male" on one particular afternoon stuck his nose in the bank and Jack Payne, the long-time manager, was the only other member of his gender in the joint.

We said something about "Jack and his harem".

Now, no one from Jack's outfit criticized us for the snide remarks in this column.

And really we meant no offense.

Some of our best friends are women....including our wife.

But one of our readers took the time to call us for our impertinentness.

The woman raised heck with us.

She thought we weren't funny at all.

(And come to think of it, in retrospect, we don't think we were, either.)

But this old gal raised an interesting question.

She asked that, if we saw fit to call the bank that day "Jack Payne and his harem", what would we have called it, if there had been 16 men and only one woman in the bank at that time?

She suggested a name.

But this IS a family newspaper.

A POLICE BLOTTER IS what the report for the police calls are called in the parlance of the trade.

This paper checks it weekly to see what is going on in this community crimewise, so to speak.

The biggest event, incidentally, last week was a reported burglary.

The burglarly occurred at The Campbell Press.

We really weren't that hard up for news.

Property owners must pay taxes even if they didn't get billed

Don't consider yourself lucky if you were one of those property owners who did not receive a tax bill.

The Tax Collector's Office reports that some property owners did not receive a bill either because the Collector's Office did not have a mailing address on file for them or because the Post Office returned the bill as undelivered.

The Collector's Office mailed 270,000 tax bills on Oct. 31. One way or the other not all of the bills reached the mail boxes of the owners. The office staff estimates nearly 20,000 bills were not delivered.

Failure to receive or request a tax bill does not excuse a property owner from the penalty if the bill for taxes becomes delinquent.

The first installment of the taxes is delinquent if not paid by Dec. 10. The second installment is due Feb. 1 and delinquent if not paid by April 10.

Those owners who did not receive a tax bill should contact the Tax Collector immediately. A prompt call will provide sufficient time to avoid a late payment penalty.

To obtain a tax bill the owner must provide the collector's office with a legal or deed description of the property. Property owners can call 299-2241, or write to L.E. Engeman, Assistant Director of Finance, Tax Collector/Treasurer, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, or visit Room 107, at 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, the County Administration Building.

If the taxes are paid by a bank or mortgage company the homeowner normally will receive a copy of the bill. However, it is not necessary for such an owner to request a bill from the Tax Collector.

The Tax Collector's Office has asked that payment be mailed in the envelopes provided with the tax bills. Payments by mail will eliminate waiting in line at the collector's office.

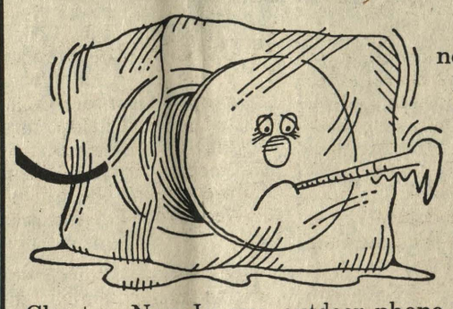
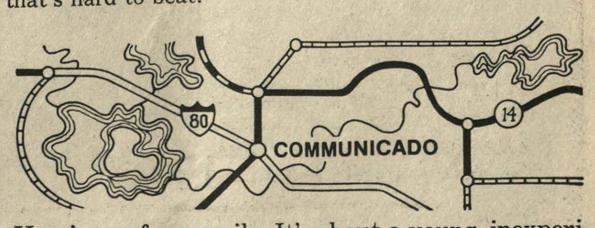
What's doing?



Believe it or not, even telephone equipment has its own rugged "proving ground." At one of Bell Telephone Laboratories field testing sites near Chester, New Jersey, outdoor phone equipment is buried, frozen, submerged in "artificial oceans," and left exposed to harsh weather for years. Everything from cable to manhole covers is given a hard time. The purpose: to test its resistance to the rigors of nature. Telephone scientists and engineers want to make sure that by the time this equipment goes into service it'll be able to take almost anything nature can hand out.

If you're like me, you probably find that there are times when you tend to put off your personal letter writing. But you want to keep in touch with your family and friends. So here's a suggestion. Let Pacific Telephone Lines help you pay them a visit. After 6 p.m. any day of the week it costs only 85c cents or less for three minutes, station-to-station, plus tax — from Campbell to anywhere in California. It's the best way I know to "catch up" when you've been neglecting pen and paper. Besides, there's nothing quite like the sound of a loved one's voice. It's a round trip travel offer that's hard to beat!



Here's one for a smile. It's about a young, inexperienced PBX attendant whose newness at a large company switchboard made her a bit on the flustered side. When a signal came on the board from the firm's top executive, she became particularly anxious. "Miss Jones," he said, "please don't put through any calls to me this morning. I'll be incommunicado." Trying her best to be efficient she replied, "Yes, sir. But in case anything comes up, hadn't you better give me your number there?"

A rummage sale will be held at the Orchard City Grange Hall on First St. in Campbell from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and will feature a large assortment of good white elephants, clothes of all sizes, Christmas gifts and toys.

Recent wedding unites Mary Groot and James Smith

MR. AND MRS. JAMES SMITH

The Stone Church in Willow Glen was the setting for the recent exchange of wedding vows between Mary D. Groot and James M. Smith.

For her wedding day Mary chose a lovely Empire styled gown with lace applique on the sleeves and on the full chapel train. Her elbow length silk illusion veil was held with a Juliet cap and she carried a dainty daisy bouquet.

Preceding the bride to the altar were the maid of honor, Miss Cathy Fay, four bridesmaids and little Stacie Tidwell in the role of flower girl. The bridemaids, Mrs. Pat Kammerer and the Misses Joyce Butterman, Wendy Groot and Ariana de Haas all wore moss green gowns and carried yellow daisy bouquets, while Miss Fay carried yellow and green daisies. The flower girl was gowned in yellow and carried a basket of the green and yellow daisies.

The new Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Groot of Century Drive and attended Campbell High School. She is presently employed by IBM, as is her bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neville Smith of Modesto.

For their children's wedding the two mothers chose complimenting gowns with Mrs. Groot wearing a pink coat ensemble and Mrs. Smith in an olive green chiffon, and both wearing carnation corsages.

Lawrence Cocknell served his friend as best man with Clint Kammerer, Rich Eihrhart, Al Hughes and Sam Groot ushering. Ricky Kammerer was entrusted with the important role as ring bearer.

Following the wedding ceremony the newly-weds greeted their friends at a reception held in the Burbank Lions Club before leaving on their honeymoon to Carmel and Southern California. Mrs. Smith chose a pink dress for her going-away outfit.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith are now making their home in San Jose.

DECORATION DATE

The Blossom Valley Garden Club will decorate the auditorium and chapel at the Agnew State Hospital on Nov. 26 for the Thanksgiving dance and holiday service. Anyone interested in participating in either or both events or learning more about the club may call Mr. Andrew Graham, president, at 377-1210.

K of C holds open house

An open house for men interested in membership in the Knights of Columbus was held recently by the Bishop O'Dowd Council No. 3474 at the Wedgewood Drive council hall.

The social evening was open to men potentially interested in KofC membership and their wives who were hosted by current members and wives.

During the evening a buffet supper was enjoyed as well as a film outlining KofC activities, membership advantages and an address by Grand Knight Irwin Pasternak, followed by a social period and awarding of door prizes. Ralph Wimer was chairman of the very successful meeting.

At the Nov. 5 business meeting Frank Feally, William Podgorsek and Larry Larson were all named "Knights of the Month" for outstanding services to the Bishop O'Dowd Council.

Feally served as chairman for the July council picnic; Podgorsek headed the German sausage booth at the Santa Clara County Fair in August and Larson promoted the council golf tournament in September.

The three honorees were presented with "Knight of the Month" certificates by Pasternak.

Mc Kinnon School cupboard is bare; PTA council appeals for items

A unique appeal for school supplies, cosmetics, games, toys, food items and other small items, is being held Nov. 24, 25 and 26, by the El Paradiso Council, Parent Teacher Association, in order to restock the cupboards of the McKinnon School, where the mentally handicapped children are educated in special classes.

At McKinnon School there are three "stores" where the children attending classes there can buy school supplies, and other items with "McKinnon Bucks" which each child earns for himself by performing simple tasks. In this way he is learning how to earn, how to handle and how to spend money.

In the school, which is located on Moorpark near the Valley Medical Center, the children who are trainable are taught to care for themselves, and those who are able are taught a trade, thus becoming more independent of their families and society.

In the past all of the "store" items have been donated by parents and teachers, with a few items being made in the various classes. This year children in the El Paradiso Council, which includes Moreland, Campbell and Burbank Elementary school districts and the Campbell Union High School District are each being asked to bring an item to school the week before Thanksgiving and place it in special containers which will be at each school.

Chairman for the project is Mrs. Arland D. Hillyard with Mrs. Robert Stewart, who is president of the council.

WW I vets hold dinner meet

Barracks Post No. 3157, a veterans organization composed of World War I veterans only, held their annual Veterans Day dinner, Tuesday, Nov. 11, at the Legion Hall in Campbell, with some 75 members and guests present enjoying a delicious chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

Following the dinner an enjoyable hour was spent singing W.W.I songs with Rex Kaber and Milt Ogden leading the group and Lee Spencer at the organ.

Adj. Sam Armstrong reported there was 46 paid members for 1969 and that four comrades had answered their last roll call. He also stated the ranks of W.W.I veterans is rapidly thinning and as of today there is only 1,647,000 living, whose average age is 74.7.

New Books at the CAMPBELL LIBRARY

THE WAKE OF THE ICARUS, by Nathaniel Benchley. (Fiction)

The Wake of the Icarus is a novel about a man who is too nice for his own good. When the U.S.S. Icarus is sunk in the Caribbean, the Captain's first problem is to get the survivors into friendly territory without revealing the nature of their mission. Nathaniel Benchley is the author of The Off-Islanders on which the movie, the Russians are Coming, the Russians are Coming was made.

THE HOUSE ON THE STRAND, by Daphne duMaurier. (Fiction)

Daphne duMaurier has written a strange book about the experiments of a young man with hallucinogenic drugs and his travels back and forth in time to the mysteries of the 14th century England. This ancient-modern Gothic tale will grip the reader until the last surprising twist in the intricately woven plot of today and yesterday.

SAXON'S GHOST, by Steve Fisher. (M)

Joe Saxon, otherwise known as The Great Saxon, is a master magician performing in an age when most magic acts have become deliberate or unconscious comedy. Part of his time is spent as a ghost breaker.

A confirmed skeptic, Saxon has seen all the illusions and can perform most of them and is convinced that there is no magic and no ESP. What happens when he suddenly finds himself wrong? This is a story of suspense with a bizarre ending.

THE GREAT SOUL TRIAL, by John G. Fuller. (129)

Like scores of old-time prospectors in Arizona's Superstition Mountains, James Kidd was a loner. His sudden disappearance in 1949 attracted little notice - until it was learned that the solitary old man had left an estate of nearly a quarter of a million dollars, along with a handwritten will directing the entire sum toward "research or some scientific proof of a soul of the human body which leaves at death". Altogether, 134 individuals, organizations and institutions paid $15 each to file a claim on Kidd's estate. This is the story of the incredible trial that ensued.

IRON HORSES TO PROMONTORY, by Gerald Best. (385.0978)

In pictures and text it tells of the locomotives - those beautiful iron horses with brass fittings, filigree work and brightly painted colors - each with its own name on the Central Pacific and its characteristic smoke stack, domes and number plates. The rolling stock is described, the locomotive builders are presented and many happenings are described. The book includes many rare and unpublished photographs. There are maps, timetables, rosters and bibliography. A book for the railroad buff.

JUDY, by Joe Morella. (791.4309 Garland)

In 1935 thirteen-year-old Judy Garland made her debut before the cameras. This began the legend of Judy Garland. Here, in one volume, is the history of the legend in the making. It documents all of her films and records her mercurial success. Her life is covered in text, photographs and news clippings. There are over 300 photographs, some never before published. A fine tribute to a great star.

NINETEENTH CENTURY ART, by Ariane Ruskin. (J 709.034)

"The period from 1800 to 1900 had spanned a greater transition in the human state than any century before; it was only fitting that in art as in the sciences, it should have been one of revolutionary change." This lively, incisive and sensitive account of 19th century painting, sculpture and architecture maintains an admirable balance, depicting through significant and fascinating detail the general outlines of a very rich and complex period in art history. The excellent full color illustrations are well-placed, carefully selected and discussed; individual works are related to their creators and artists to their greater worlds. An unusually good art survey for junior high and up.

Camden Chatter

By DEBBIE UNDERWOOD

Nominations for homecoming queen on Thanksgiving Day have been made. The three semi-finalists in the running are senior girls Carol Rangle, Kay Grano and Sue Evans. Not until the assembly held next Tuesday will the queen be known. Crowning ceremonies will take place during the halftime festivities at the Thanksgiving Homecoming game.

Tickets can still be picked up for the first annual Homecoming Day Breakfast. The price is a small sum of 50¢ a person, regardless of age. Aunt Jemima pancakes, sausages and beverages will be served. (All you can eat and more.)

So head on out to the Camden cafetorium on next Thursday, the 27th, from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. And hey mom, this is the moment you've been waiting for: no cooking, no dishes and a great time to get away from the kitchen!!

On this Saturday and Sunday the G.A.A. girls will be collecting newspapers for their annual money-raising paper drive. All persons having extra newspapers lying around the house are encouraged to bring them to the student parking lot on Nov. 22 and 23. Every little bit helps.

Although the Cougars have been upset-minded when it comes to football, the slogan "Keep the faith Cougars" can be heard all over campus. We're all the way behind you, boys, so let's see a long-awaited victory on the Del Mar field next Thursday.

Westmont Whirl

By Linda Hall

"Ah, Wilderness," a play by Eugene O'Neill, will be presented by the senior class Nov. 20, 21 and 22 at 8 p.m. Taking place in 1910, the play centers around the hangups of a boy who is "led astray" and who "leads the pace that kills."

The main actors are: Rick Hamm, Dave Marchesi, Kathy Terry, Shawn Riley, Sandy Woodard, Shelley Breuer, Jim Ferguson and Darlene Thorne.

Westmont is starting something new! Under the name of Rally Committee, this club hopes to seek out all the spirit in the school and unite it. The club was started by Lesley Baldinger. The major goal is to create a universal spirit that all groups, clubs and individual students may unite and participate in.

The varsity cross-country team, headed by junior Randy Carlson, with senior Dan Stobell, juniors Louie Hernandez, Bill Krause, Jon Ahnberg and Mike Flack, and sophomore Fred Washer as its other members, has compiled a 5-3 winloss record.

Warrior C courtmen gained their fifth win of the season from Saratoga 52-50. Leading throughout the entire contest the little Warriors held off a late Falcon surge to capture the win. Dan Dye's outstanding 32 point effort led the way.

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

Panther Frosh-Soph and Varsity gridders couldn't contain the Los Gatos Wildcats Friday night, as the Wildcats won both their games. Frosh-Soph score was 22-18 in favor of Los Gatos, while the Varsity score was more one-sided, 52-6 in favor of the Wildcats.

This week Saratoga travels to Prospect for a game beginning at 3 p.m. on the Panther home field. This will be the final game before the big Thanksgiving contest.

Prospect's senior class is presenting their annual play which will be on Thursday and Friday of this week. It is "The Diary of Anne Frank." This is the story of eight Jewish people hiding in Holland during World War II to escape Hitler. Tickets for the play are available from any cast member or at the door. The production starts at 8 p.m. in the school cafetorium. Tickets are 75¢ for children under 12; $1 for students with an ASB card and $1.25 for adults.

The 10 seniors cast in the play are: Debbie Jones as Anne, Ed Church as Mr. Frank, Liz Rao as Mrs. Frank, Kathy Smith as Mr. Van Daan, Steve Yaste as Mr. Van Daan, Ken Chase as Peter, Mike Gray as Mr. Dussel, LaVonne Ramsey as Margot, Scott Hutchinson as Mr. Kraler and Barb Goodell as Miep.

Panther Paws are sponsoring a dance which will be held Nov. 20 in Prospect's big gym. The dance is an informal sock hop from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Music will be provided by the Fritz, and admission is $1.50 per person. All students from all schools are invited to come.

Del Mar Dateline

By Sharon Farmer

A Del Mar First! One hundred dollars will be paid to the Del Mar choir and orchestra for performing in a Christmas program sponsored by First Valley Savings.

Del Mar is the first school in the CUHSD to receive such an honor. The thirty minute program will be held on Dec. 17 at 10:45 a.m. in the Fox Theater, downtown San Jose.

Five seniors from Del Mar were selected by Mr. Miskulin, principal, to participate in student government day Nov. 10.

The people and positions they held were: Bob Fiok, fire chief; Paul Ryan, superintendent of public works; Earl Poytress, finance director; Cindy Brooks, councilwoman; and Mary Ann Chalmers, city manager.

Junior Class had a record-breaking gross sales of $7,306.-47 in the annual junior class magazine sales. Top salesmen included Steve Curi, $201.97; Jill McDowell, $176.37; and Phil Benevido, $139.95.

Ethel Buller won one of the three honorable mentions given at the United Nations Cultural Festival. The festival was held Oct. 18 and 19 at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds.

Del Mar's triumph upset Camden's undefeated Cross-Country team Thursday, Nov. 6. This set Del Mar in a three-way tie for the WVAL Cross-Country race. Dons placed last in finals last Wednesday trailing behind Camden and Saratoga.

Another Del Mar first! Don's varsity wrapped the Warriors Friday, Nov. 7. Ken Williams contributed two touchdowns to the Don's victory. The final score was 6-0. Branham upset the big Dons last Friday 34-0.

The tiny tacklers were overthrown by Westmont and Branham.

The D basketball team clinched the league title for the third successive year by defeating Willow Glen 33-28.

The C's came through with a hard-earned tie for third place. C's top scorers were Gary Benevidez with 155 and Craig Richin with 106.

Campbell Corners

Turkey time is nearing again soon, and along with good ol' turkey time comes the homecoming dance and the big homecoming game traditionally against Los Gatos High School. This year that game will be held on the Los Gatos field.

The nominations for homecoming queen are now in and they include Debbie Yeager nominated by the Spirit Commission; Terry Young nominated by the student council; Candy Davison nominated by Block C; Bonnie Atkinson nominated by Photo Commission; Carol Fischer nominated by Girl's Sports.

Becky Moore nominated by the Debs; Kay Davis nominated by Ski Club; and Candy Bourdet nominated by the Drama Commission.

Votes will be counted this Thursday and five finalists will then be selected. These five girls will appear at the Homecoming dance this Friday in formal dress.

The big dance will be held from 8 to 11 and Westmont and Prospect have both been invited to attend. The cost will be $0.50 for student body card holders and $1 for non-card holders.

XANTHEUS will be the band to play at the dance. As they are one of the best bands in the area, they are expected to bring in many students from all three schools.

This Friday the rally will take on a switch. The cheerleaders, song girls, pirettes, flag girls and letter girls will all pull a switch-a-roo by wearing a uniform of someone they are not. It's all done in fun and should prove to be a good and interesting rally. The girls are getting a skit ready to perform, too.

Ron Wood, Campbell's offensive center and defensive middle guard, was named Player-of-the-Week for his performance in the game against Blackford last Friday in which Campbell walked over Blackford 22 to 12.

In the game against Prospect the week before the Blackford game, Bill McCall, our offensive halfback, was named Player-of-the-Week by the coaches. "It was one of Bill's best days," Coach Matthews complimented.

A reminder to all seniors from Mrs. Parker, senior counselor: Get those applications for scholarships, college admission and any other information concerning testing into the proper places now. Deadlines must be met as soon it will be too late.

Our thanks to the student council for the music in the cafeteria during both lunches. Many are behind me in saying that it has added a lot to the cafeteria's atmosphere.

Don't forget to make it to the homecoming dance this Friday. Dress will be school clothes. It should prove to be one of the biggest activities at Campbell this year. See you there!

NEW HOME FOR BICYCLE SHOPS--Workmen in photo above study blueprints as the framework for Bill Paul's new bicycle center goes up at the corner of Hamilton Ave. and Harrison St. When completed sometime in January, it will be the new home of Campbell's two leading bike shops, Wheel-Away on Winchester Blvd. and the Campbell Cycle Center on Campbell Ave. at San Tomas.

Bicycle shops to locate in new building

A new building, which will be called the Wheel-Away Cycle Center, will be one of the best equipped and most elaborate bicycle sales and service centers in the Valley. Fully air-conditioned throughout, the new cycle center, located on the corner of Hamilton and Harrison Ave., will have a total of 8,500 square feet on two floors, with a parking area in front able to accommodate up to 24 cars at a time.

The new building will feature a combination of brick facing and all glass front, with the entire showroom and display areas in glass. Featured in addition to the most modern bicycle repair shop in this area will be Paul's three principal lines; Schwinn, Raleigh and Peugeot. When the new store is opened, the staffs of both present stores will be moved to the new store to assist Paul in its operation.

At present, Paul operates the Wheel-Away with the help of his son, Richard and daughter, Janice, who is also a student at West Valley College. Jerry Bernstein, Paul's son-in-law, operates the Cycle Center with the aid of Bruce Runner, who recently was graduated from Campbell High School.

Paul, a native of Kingston, Pa., has been in California since 1947, following his service as a Chief Petty Officer in the Navy. He retired in 1960 with a total of 20 years of service. Following two years of study at San Jose City College, he joined the staff of the Guaranteed Service Co. in San Jose as a refrigeration specialist. In 1963, he acquired the Wheel-Away shop on Winchester Blvd. and in 1967 bought the Campbell Cycle Center.

Paul is a member of the Campbell Optimist Club, the Campbell Chamber of Commerce and the San Jose Elks Club.

OUR NATION'S FLAG--Flag that flew over the nation's capitol is displayed by San Tomas student body president, Jeff Van Amburg and Randy Travis. Standing by are Ricky Hinson and Paul Souza of the flag squad. The flag is now flown over the San Tomas Elementary School.

Our countrys flag flies over San Tomas school

A flag that once flew over the United States Capitol building in Washington, D.C., now flies over the San Tomas Elementary School building.

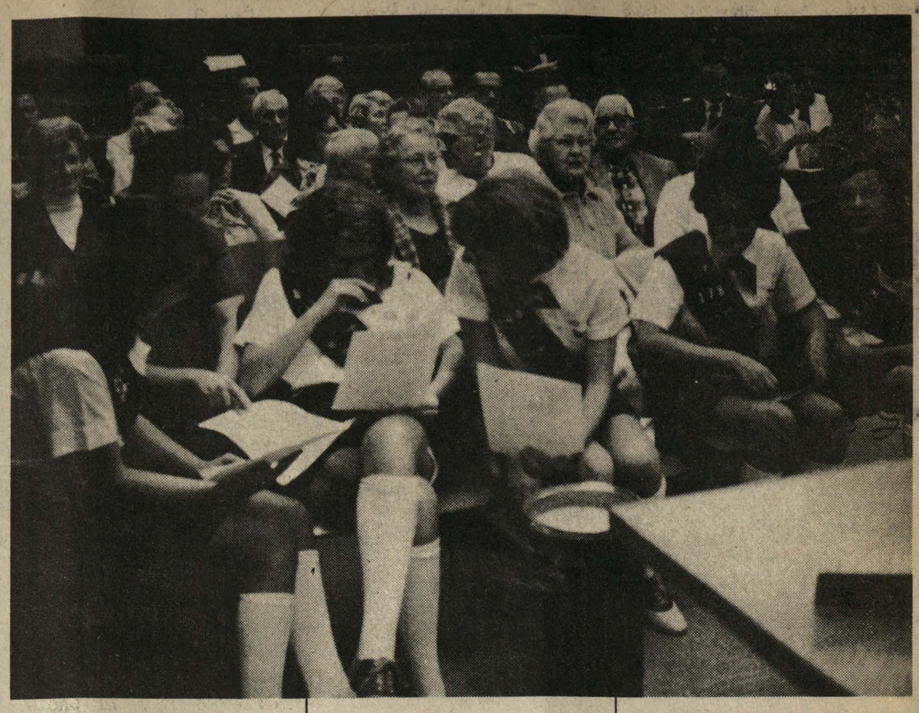
Acquisition of the flag became a student body project last year when the student council held a "penny drive," and each child contributed at least one cent toward the purchase of the flag.

A large gallon jar was placed in the school office, and as the pennies were deposited the children counted the money until 575 pennies were collected. The money was then sent to Congressman Charles Gubser by Pauline Wilson, student body secretary, and Gubser in turn had the official flag mailed to the school, along with a certificate attesting to the fact that it had flown over the Capitol, signed by J. George Stewart, architect of the capitol.

A letter from Gubser was also received saying he could not attend the initial flag ceremony at the school, but commended the students for undertaking the project and displaying such respect for their country's flag.

When the flag was received the entire student body turned out for an impressive ceremony, which will be conducted each month during the monthly flag-raising held at the school. As the ceremony begins the Safety Patrol hoists the flag to the top of the flag pole while the entire student body pledges allegiance to their flag and sings "America".

THIS IS OUR FLAG--San Tomas Elementary School children prepare to participate in the monthly flag raising ceremony held at the San Tomas School. The flag is one which once flew over the nation's capitol.



GOING OVER AGENDA--Members of Girl Scout Cadette Troop 878 recently attended a Campbell City Council meeting as part of their Active Citizen Challenge work. Above are Jean Bicocca, Donna Collins, Carolyn Mott, Cindy Fierro and Linda Collins seen as they scan the mysteries of the council agenda. Their leader, Mrs. Roxie Clapes, brought 17 of the girls to the council meeting.

OUR PRINCESS--Mrs. Jonnie McFall, active member of the Orchard City Grange and who has resided in Campbell for 36 years, was named one of the two Senior Princesses during the recent Santa Clara County Fair Senior Citizens Day. Mrs. McFall, the mother of three sons and one daughter, grandmother of 10 and great - grandmother of 16, leads a full, active life not only as a Grange member but as a member of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 158; the First United Methodist Church of Campbell and as a member of the Ada Rebekahs of Campbell. Mrs. McFall worked in the Campbell Hunts and Drew canneries as a floorlady for 27 years before her retirement. Her husband, John, passed away 15 years ago but Mrs. McFall still maintains the family home on Railway Ave. She admits to being 79 years, but can be seen walking around town on her many errands at a pace that would put a 25-year-old to shame. Mrs. McFall is also well-known for her many tasty cakes and can always be counted on for a contribution to a cake sale. Campbell is indeed honored to have Mrs. McFall as one of the "royal lineage" calling Campbell home.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 15

"A feeling of pride" is one of Girl Scouts' greatest assets. Out of pride stems self-assurance, a feeling of really being needed and a sense of responsibility. Girl Scout troop leaders feel this pride in seeing the many worthwhile accomplishments their girls do through the years. To know that "your girls" are doing the best job possible, whether it be a civic project or perfecting their camping skills to teach others, is the finest reward a troop leader can receive.

Mrs. Neil Hickman, Mrs. Ronald Dunham and Mrs. Edward Aldefonso felt this surge of pride when they recently took their troop of 37 girls to Skylark for a double overnight. The Junior Scouts of Troop 169, Baker School, cooked their meals by patrols, laid trail signs with a dash of competition thrown in, hiked and did numerous crafts, such as belt weaving.

During their stay at the Girl Scout camp site, they had a "scouts own" concerning nature conservation, the Girl Scout Promise and Laws and "Why Be a Girl Scout?".

There is great joy and pride in seeing a group of 37 girls, each performing her own task or duty to make the entire camping trip "click" and function as a well organized team. Surely the extra "Moms" who accompanied the troop, Mrs. Conley and Mrs. Elliot, shared greatly in this experience with the leaders.

UNICEF concert auditions open

Applications for the eighth annual UNICEF Youth Concerts are now available to interested young Campbell musicians, with Jan. 25 set for audition day and two March concerts.

Performers must be eighteen years old or younger on March 15, 1970 to be eligible for this year's audition and concerts. Solo performers and ensembles, instrumentalists and singers are all encouraged to audition.

The UNICEF Youth Concerts were founded in 1962 with a double purpose: to provide young musical artists the opportunity to perform, and to offer their talents to help the world's needy children. Proceeds from concert ticket sales are turned over to UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, which helps provide food, medical care and health education for the world's underprivileged children.

The auditions, scheduled for Jan. 25, 1970, at the music department of San Jose State College, are expected to attract more than a hundred applicants from talented young musicians. Application forms are available by phoning 378-2535; deadline for submitting applications, Jan. 1, 1970.

Kathee Scroggins, 55 Jeffers Way, was named a No. 1 contest semi-finalist in a national essay contest sponsored by National Car Rental System, Inc.

Kathee, who married David Card last week, and so is now Kathee Card, is senior rental agent at the San Jose Airport rental outlet, and has been with the company for two years. Her husband is a supervisor for Pacific Southwest Airlines, and she has a small son, Mike.

Kathee's essay was chosen on the basis of what she believes it takes to make the customer No. 1 in her particular area of responsibility. She has lived in Campbell for the last year.

Beck's observes 50th anniversary

Shown above is the latest addition to the Beck Shoe Stores, at 3687 Union Ave., just off Camden. Manager of this new store is Jack Pipe, with 20 years experience in shoe fitting and sales, who joins with the other three Santa Clara county stores to mark the 50th anniversary of the company.

Beck's Shoe Stores, now the largest independent consumer of Red Wing Boots and Shoes in California, was first established by O. P. Beck in Salinas in 1919. Originally a shoe repair store, it expanded as Beck's three sons grew up in the shoe fitting and repairing business with their father.

In 1959, William Beck, youngest son of the founder, established the first San Jose store. A second store was opened in Sunnyvale and is managed by Don Burgess, also with 20 years experience.

An outstanding feature of all Beck Shoe Stores, who have featured the Red Wing line for 19 years, is their huge stock in all sizes and widths. Correct fitting in all styles is constantly stressed, and each store keeps a card file on every customer.

William Beck, who started the three Santa Clara county stores, has been in the shoe business since he was 10 years old, fitting and repairing shoes as an apprentice to his father. An ardent sportsman and outdoorsman, Bill Beck also finds time to serve as a Boy Scout leader and as a member of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., Inc. (Barbershop Quartet and Chorus) of San Jose.

Wide-eyed in Washington

By Mason Sacks

The word "embassy", to me, has always had a distant and even somewhat mysterious ring to it. Now that I am in Washington, however, the world's many Embassies are no longer distant at all. And as far as the mysteriousness goes, this, too, is rapidly disappearing.

In talking with a diplomat from Indonesia, I learned that the functions of the Indonesian Embassy can be divided into two general areas, neither of which is particularly mysterious.

The primary function of the Embassy is to be of service to the Indonesian citizens who are staying in the United States. This service may be in the form of helping with finding employment, locating living accommodations, or, as the diplomat put it, "providing assistance if an Indonesian citizen comes into fault with the law."

Being of service to Americans who are interested in or would like to travel to Indonesia is a second basic purpose of their Embassy. This may involve helping with travel arrangements, providing visas, or any of a number of similar things.

I was also fortunate to have the opportunity to speak with attache of the Swiss Embassy. The Swiss Embassy, I learned, divides its duties and concerns into several different areas; cultural, scientific, commercial, military, consular (visas, registration, etc.) and political.

Most of the above classifications seemed to me to be pretty self-explanatory. The "political" division, however, appeared so broad that just about anything could fall into it. When I asked the Swiss attache about this, he told me that the Swiss Embassy has the responsibility of keeping the government of Switzerland informed of what is going on in the United States. "Usually we use newspapers," he smiled, "but sometimes you have to dig a little deeper."

In contacting various other Embassies, including the British, the Swedish and the Islamic Center, I was told essentially the same things. One rather interesting tidbit of information that I picked up is the fact that if you are standing in an Embassy, you are considered to be on the soil of a foreign country.

For those of you who would like to travel around the world but haven't been able to find the time, a tour of the Embassies might be just the thing you've been looking for.

At Purdue University, seventy male staff members, ranging in age from 23 to 56, went on a stiff four month exercise regimen. Afterwards, there was a dramatic gain in their hearing. The reason was believed to be a reduction in cholesterol within the ear.

Capri parents plan drug talk

Capri Home and School Club has a very interesting and timely meeting planned for Nov. 20 concerning Drug Abuse. The meeting will be held at Capri School, 850 Chapman at 7:30 p.m.

Speaker for the evening will be Gordon Mc Lean, executive director of Drug Abuse Information Service of San Jose. With the growing need for more information on this subject, Mc Lean is well qualified to answer any questions. Parents concerned with this growing problem should make this meeting a must.

There will be a brief business meeting preceding the speaker. Baby-sitting will be provided in Room K-2. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

On a weekend trip to my home town of Gilroy I found my neighbors deeply concerned over the sudden increase in the use of narcotics by teenagers in our community. In recent weeks grammar school children have been steadily victimized by the pushers of marijuana, "speed", and narcotics and many families have come to know the tragedy which dope always causes.

One such tragedy recently befell the Art Linkletter family which may well turn out to be the event that started the U.S. toward a workable, realistic program of drug control. It may be a blessing to thousands of young people who will escape the drug habit, who will be able to live full, productive lives instead of ending up on the dead-end street of terminal drug addiction.

Linkletter's courage, in taking to the public the problem which caused his family such grief, is admirable. The WASHINGTON STAR (Oct. 27) states: "Perhaps the most impressive thing about Linkletter's presentation was that, despite the extreme provocation, he did not lose his sense of perspective. There was no rage; no angry demands for a mindless application of harsh laws for all who transgress in the area of drugs.

"Instead, Linkletter endorsed the principle of cracking down on those who peddle hard drugs. He advocates a tightening of controls over the distribution, through legitimate channels, of stimulants and depressants. He backed the proposal to reduce the penalty for possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor. He spoke tellingly of the adverse role played by a society that constantly urges the use of chemicals to correct every ill—physical and emotional."

The STAR says Linkletter's testimony should give a push to Congress' casual consideration of drug control legislation, requested by the Administration. It also should awaken parents to the reality that drugs are not always someone else's problem.

A Congressional committee has revealed the extent of the current drug problem. It states that there are an estimated 125,000 active hard narcotics addicts today. An additional 500,000 practice habitual abuse of sedatives, stimulants, tranquilizers and related drugs. Nearly 10 million Americans have used marijuana, including an estimated one-third of the college population. In the past 10 years, arrests for narcotics and marijuana offenses jumped from 9,863 in 1958 to 162,-107 last year.

The report says drug abuse is not a law-enforcement problem alone. It also is a mental health problem and a physical health problem. With habits costing up to $200 a day, it has become an economic problem, with crime ranging into the billions being the main source of funds.

Congress must now sort out the laws that crack down hard on peddlers of hard mind and body-destroying drugs without establishing a dragnet that over-punishes first-time users of milder drugs. Stopping the source of supply will go a long way toward solving the drug problem.

O.E.S. INSTALLATION

NEW STAND---Organic foods sold here.

Santonocito sells organic foods at new stand

At this stand at 11070 Saratoga Ave., just south of Williams Rd., Sam Santonocito is now featuring a complete line of natural Organic fruits, vegetables and other organic food products. Known as the Eastman Produce, the business is now in its sixth month and growing as fast as Santonocito can locate additional growers and producers of organic foods in this area.

In addition to all types of produce, organically grown apples and other fruits are featured. Recently, Sam added pure peanut butter, the genuine old-fashioned kind, honey, jumbo brown eggs and stone ground flour. Sam grinds his own flour from the original wheat kernels which he has shipped to him direct from the wheat fields of Utah.

Sam originally operated a fruit stand at his present location, but when he switched over to only organic fruits, vegetables and other foods, he said "Lots of my former customers didn't come in because they didn't know what they were getting in 'organic' foods.

"Organic foods are just about the purest, most natural foods you can get", he continued. "They're grown without chemicals or any artificial aids or growth stimulants. They're never sprayed with insecticides or any poisons or chemicals or dusts. In fact, you might say that organic foods are the kind that grandfather raised."

Conservation-related problems to feature college symposium

Destruction or survival - this is the choice facing Americans today.

And this will be the topic for a four-week symposium at West Valley College beginning Nov. 26, when several critical conservation-related issues of our time come in for discussion.

One of the central issues of our time - man's ability to cope with his own progress - will be the basis for the four nights of discussion. Speakers prominent in the areas of the Bay, California's land resources, transportation and population control will present their views and answer questions from those in attendance.

State Senator Nicholas C. Petris (D.-Alameda) will begin the series with a lecture on the "San Francisco Bay and Our Future." Petris is vice chairman of the Senate's committee on Natural Resources and was a key author of the recent "Save the Bay" bill.

"Transportation Solutions and Their Consequences" will be the topic of Paul Yarborough, transportation study manager for Santa Clara County's transportation problems, on Dec. 3.

James P. Degnan, University of Santa Clara professor, will discuss the "Misuse of Land" on Dec. 10. He has written nationally published articles on the illegal urban use of agricultural land and the ill-advised zoning practices of local governments.

The series will wind up with a lecture on the "Effects of Population Growth and Overgrowth" by San Francisco State College Professor George Treichel. An active member of the Sierra Club, Treichel has been a vocal advocate of conservation.

Any resident of West Valley College's district who is seriously concerned about conserving our natural resources may attend. All who attend must register for the class at the Office of Community Services, located at 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. Applications will be processed on a first-come, first-served basis.

West Valley College Sports

FOOTBALL

West Valley College footballers are no longer the state's top ranked team.

On Friday night the Vikes were stripped of their California top spot and the Camino Norte Conference crown by the DeAnza Dons who now head to the state play-offs. The Dons upset West Valley 53-41.

The Dons stole the victory from the grasp of West Valley in the final minutes of play when they marched for two quick scores, the latter the go ahead tally with only five seconds in the game before the overflow crowd at Foothill Stadium.

Then they recovered a Valley fumble in the end zone on the last play to cinch the CNC championship and a spot at the state play-offs at Chabot on Thanksgiving weekend.

Dave Ray ended the game with 129 yards in 20 totes to end the season with 1286 yards to clinch the state large college lead while Bill Barnes fired three touchdown strikes to boost his state leading total to 20.

Larry Ray, second in the state in scoring prior to the game, scored only five points to move him to 92 on the year. The three were playing their last game in a Viking uniform.

Barnes blasted over for two one-yard TD runs amidst scoring tosses of 51, 51, and 18 yards to Scott Loomis. The slight split end, a freshman and another candidate for an all-conference berth, hauled in six passes for 159 yards lifting his total to 30 receptions for 709 yards and eight tallies in the Vikes near title year.

SOCCER

After a slim 1-0 loss to the Western Junior College Soccer Conference leading Canada, the West Valley College Vikings feel "we have a good chance to come back and win our last game," according to head coach Dick Schwendinger. Valley will host Ohlone Friday afternoon at their Saratoga field.

Canada College outscored the Vikes by one as the league leaders continued their winning ways. But WVC almost played the role of a spoiler as they held CC to one point, the least they've been held to all year.

WATER POLO

West Valley College, even though they posted a 12-15 season record, will be out to upset wherever possible when they compete in the Northern California Junior College water polo championships.

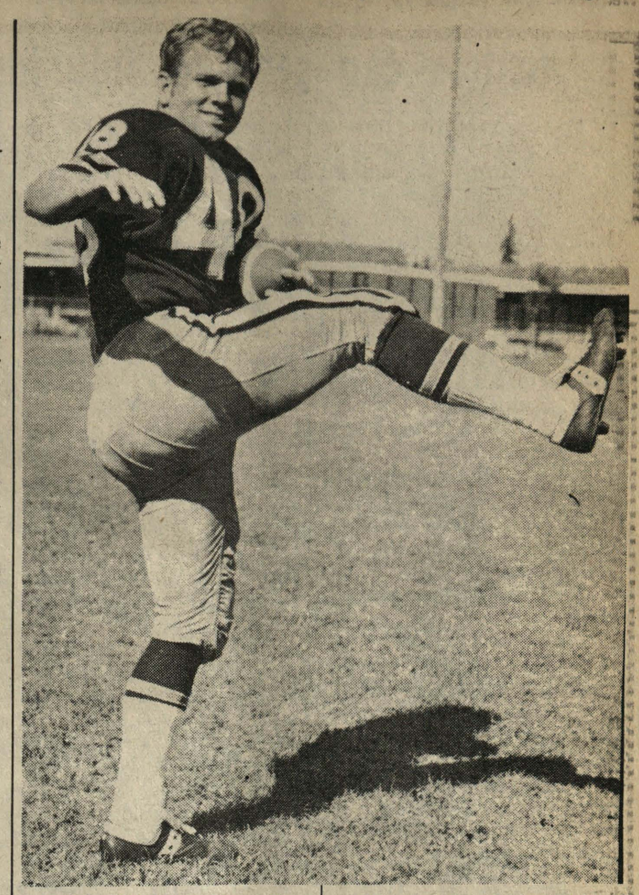
DeAnza, host of the tourney, Foothill, and the College of San Mateo should be favored at the NorCal event but WVC must be rated towards the top.

CSM, rated as the top Northern squad, saw their 20 game win streak snapped last week as the DAC Dons outclassed the Bulldogs 5-4.

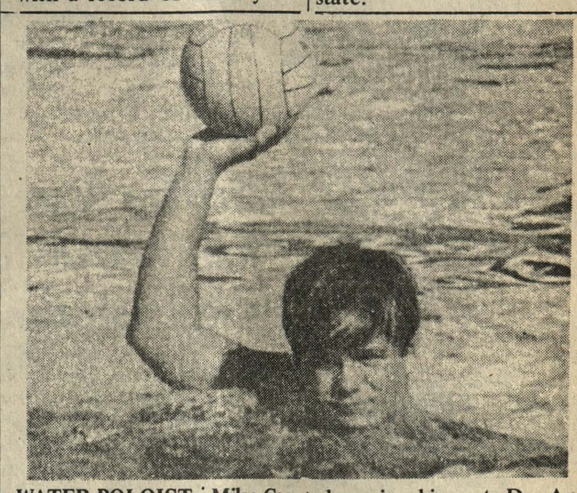
INTRAMURALS

West Valley College lost the Camino Norte Conference title to DeAnza last Friday night but the Vikings may have a chance for revenge. The Don championship intramural football squad has challenged WVC intra' champs to a flag football game set for next week in Cupertino. The Fly Swatters of Campbell are able combators as they ended their inter-school season with an 8-0 marking.

Valley finished seventh at the Nov. 8 sportsday at Chabot College. Top placers for the Vikes included Pete Beatty and Sandy Baziuk, third in mixed doubles badminton, Mary Ann Scrivano, a table tennis second, Artis Finlay, tennis second, Paul Cunningham, third in handball, and Mike Laspina and Jack Abbott, a bowling doubles second.



BEST RUSHER---Dave Ray, West Valley College gridder, with a record of 1286 yards rushing, is "number one" for the large junior colleges in the state.



WATER-POLOIST---Mike Castellano, co-captain of the West Valley College water polo team, will lead his teammates this weekend in the NorCal championships at De Anza. The two top teams at the event will compete in the state championships in two weeks at West Valley College.

TOP SCORER---Larry Ray, stalwart member of the West Valley College football squad, has scored 92 points this year to put him among the top 10 in junior college circles in the state. He is a Buchser High grad. The Vikings lost to De Anza for the league championship after being ranked number one junior college team in the state.

Los Gatos High rolls on toward West Valley League grid crown

Campbell and Leigh high schools will meet this Friday, Nov. 21, in the final league game before the annual Thanksgiving Day battles.

The game this Friday could decide the runner-up position in the West Valley League.

Los Gatos High, undefeated in league play, steam-rollered over Prospect High last Friday 52-6. The Wildcats meet Del Mar in what is expected to be a breather this Friday for Los Gatos.

Campbell and Los Gatos meet in the traditional Thanksgiving Day game. But the Bucs already have two league losses.

Should they turn back Leigh this Friday and then top Los Gatos on Thanksgiving, Los Gatos will still end the season with a better record.

Provided, of course, Del Mar doesn't stage the greatest upset of the year this Friday.

Campbell turned back Blackford 22-12 last Friday when Joe Alvarez, Buck quarterback, completed 11 of 16 passes for 205 yards.

Leigh, Campbell's opponent this Friday, defeated Camden 33-18 last Friday. In that game, Mike Montasono, Leigh halfback, ran 65-yards for one TD and scored another on a pass reception for 22 yards from Brian Shelby who also hit Steve Oliver for another score.

On Friday, Branham goes against Westmont. Branham turned back Del Mar 27-8 last week while Saratoga was clobbering Westmont 40-16. This Friday Saratoga and Prospect tangle.

Camden and Blackford meet in another league tussle.

SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

Here's an interesting question... Can you guess which man has played in more World Series games than anyone else in history?... Answer is Yogi Berra... Yogi set the all-time record by playing in a grand total of 75 different World Series games.

* * *

What was the strangest World Series ever played?... How about the one in 1960?... Did you know in that Series the Yankees scored 55 runs and the Pirates only 27, yet the Pirates won the Series four games to three!

Could you imagine the manager of a pennant-winning baseball team saying he didn't want his team to play in the World Series!... Did you know such a thing once happened?... It was in 1904... The Giants won the National League pennant but their manager, John McGraw, refused to let them meet the American League winner, the Red Sox... And so, no World Series was played in 1904.

Nine out of ten people suffer from headaches at one time or another. Wonder who that tenth person is?

Visitors can get look into history at Sutter's Fort

As the modern day traveler drives along the wide tree-shaded streets of Sacramento leading to Sutter's Fort it is hard to imagine that once nothing but wilderness surrounded the small fort that was the beginning of the state's capitol city.

If any place in the city reflects the history of Sacramento, then it is Sutter's Fort, located at 27th and L streets, reports the California State Automobile Association.

It was on this knoll in 1839 that Sutter, a Swiss emigrant and first settler in the Sacramento Valley, started his fort that eventually became a mecca and supply point for the wagon trains, trappers and adventurers who found their way West over the Sierra Nevada in the 1840's.

Among the men who visited the fort in those early days were John C. Fremont, the U.S. engineer who helped secure California for the Union, and Kit Carson, legendary Indian scout.

It was to Sutter's Fort, in January 1848, a few weeks before California won its independence from Mexico, that James Marshall, a carpenter building a sawmill for Sutter on the American River near Coloma, brought the piece of "malleable metal" he had found that was to start the biggest gold rush in history. And it was near Sutter's Fort, on the banks of the Sacramento River, in the fall of 1848 that Sacramento City was born.

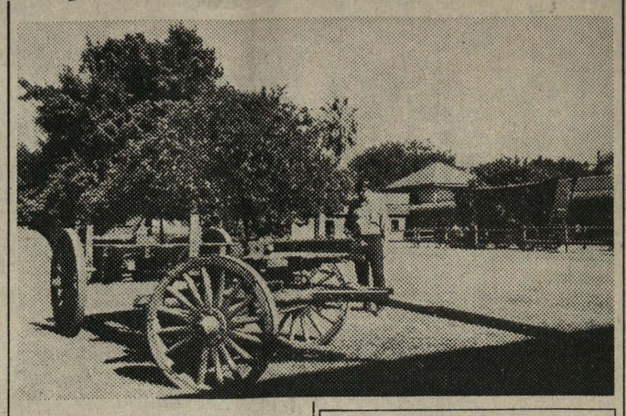
The small settlement was laid out by Sutter's son and was at first a supply center for the settlers in the valley. As the gold fever spread, however, the small hamlet took on the look of a boom town. Ships docked daily from San Francisco and long wagon trains pulled in regularly, disgorging new settlers and eager fortune hunters.

Today tourists can walk around the fort and look into history.

Inside the fort are the central buildings with Sutter's offices on the upper floor and a museum. Sutter's quarters, west of the L St. gate represent the kitchen, office and bedroom. Life-size figures of Sutter and Marshall, inspecting the gold from the sawmill, are in Sutter's office.

Various shops are built along the inside of the wall and give an idea of what life in the fort was like in the 1840's. There are thousands of items on display within the fort – weapons used by the trappers and explorers in taming the land, and household goods and tools brought overland by the pioneers on their long torturous wagon journeys.

Visitors may peer through the door to the upper floor of the bastion and see the cannon, and also through the door of the fort prison below where prisoners found few comforts.



In the west end rooms are the gunsmith, storage and living quarters, kitchen, meat room and carpenter shop.

A diorama depicting the arrival of Fremont and his guide, Kit Carson, in March 1844, and members of their party, with Sutter greeting them at the gate, is on display in the Sutter Story Room which adjoins the Monument Office.

Visitors to the fort will also want to take time to stop at the State Indian Museum, located directly behind the fort. It contains hundreds of handcrafted articles made and used by the early Indian tribes of California.

Police recover two stolen cars

Two stolen cars were returned to their owners during the last week after the thieves were apprehended by Campbell Police officers shortly after the reports were turned over to the police.

On Nov. 18 Gary Lynn Andrews left his car parked in a downtown parking lot and when he returned his car was missing. Reporting the theft to the police, they were able to spot the vehicle, being driven by an 18-year-old youth, at an excessive speed at Whiteoaks and Camden. After a high speed chase they were able to stop the car at E. Campbell Ave.

In the second instance, two teen-agers were apprehended before they could burglarize the San Tomas Shopping Center. The police officer noticed the two, parked in the shopping center lot late in the evening. The car was stopped when it was observed that the license light was not functioning and the car was checked out as having been stolen earlier from Richmond. The two boys admitted to planning on robbing the stores.

Tack from a barn located at 600 Sunnyoaks Ave. was stolen over the weekend. The horse gear included reins, headstalls, hackamores and chains belonging to 12-year-old Cindy Sloan who boards her horse at the Sunnyoaks boarding stable. This is the second time within the last few weeks that horse equipment has been removed from the Sunnyoaks area.

Other reports showed eight bikes reported stolen, four were found; auto equipment valued at $1500 was stolen from Western Fiberglas, 861 McGlincey and a police officer, John E. Rapp, was roughed up when he attempted to question two men concerning a fight started at the Village Gent Tavern, 1355 W. Hacienda Ave., Saturday night.
